Keeping the home toxin-free is the name of the game for healthy-home advocate Rhonda Sherwood, chair of the not-for-profit Mount Sinai Children's Environmental Health Center (CEHC), www.cehcenter.org (see "Cleaning House," pg. 50). For information on creating a non-toxic home, Sherwood recommends www.healthychild.org, the web site of CEHC's sister organization based in Los Angeles, and www.thegreenguide.com. "This web site lists good information on non-toxic paints, cabinetry and Energy Star-certified appliances," says Sherwood.
